IV. (0:01:05) Monthly Update from Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation Director Tommy Johnson

- Update on the current and new Oahu Community Correctional Center (OCCC)
 - i. Director Johnson addresses the misinformation regarding OCCC being called a super jail which it is not.
 - ii. The facility is supposed to be 1,300 beds, 300 of the beds would be used for reintegration, for parole and probation violators who return to jail and furlough purposes
 - iii. The additional beds are to be used to transition people quickly into work furlough.
 - iv. Will expand the Lamaka work furlough site to 240 beds and reduce OCCC from four floors to two floors, maybe three. Currently working with architectural designer. Community Transition Center (CTC).
 - v. Average stay for Lamaka furloughs is 4 – 6 months, allows them to establish employment and money saved up, then they transition to extended furlough (living in the community).
 - vi. Current DCR policy now allows them to place people in furlough up to two years prior to their TPD. Must qualify to be classified as community custody two years before their TPD. Director Johnson will provide Oversight Coordinator Johnson with a copy of Professor Janet Davidson's final report regarding recommendations for classification changes.
- Update on Halawa Correctional Facility (HCF)
 - i. Consolidated healthcare center project at Halawa Correctional Facility (HCF). It will increase from 41 beds to 43 beds. Bids are planned to go out June 2026, and bids submitted between September-October 2026.
